About Faircity Quatermain:

Faircity Quatermain is a beautiful, sophisticated hotel with a gorgeous old English-style charm. Plush couches and regal dark wood furnishings add to its romantic feel. Located in the suburb of Morningside, Sandton, the Sandton Gautrain station, Sandton Convention Centre, major highways, shopping centres and restaurants are in close proximity. The initial owners of Quatermain had strong English connections but were also extremely proud South Africans. They wanted to reflect both cultures in the design and interiors of the building. The architecture of The Quatermain Hotel is reminiscent of a grand English country home, while the indigenous gardens and the use of African prints and ceramics throughout the hotel incorporates an African feel. The hotel has 104 rooms offering luxurious and comfortable 4-star accommodation. Faircity Quatermain caters for business and leisure guests, providing both with the facilities and services to ensure the most comfortable stay possible.

The beautiful gardens and sparkling pool provide a surprising escape just a stone's throw from the Sandton Gautrain station, Sandton Convention Centre, major highways, shopping centres and restaurants. Initially the vision for the Falstaff was for an 8-bedroom guest house, but as the design progressed, the vision expanded to that of a 30-bedroom and then a 41-bedroom boutique hotel. The hotel caters for both business and leisure guests, with facilities and services to ensure a comfortable and rejuvenating stay.
